Purpose

The purpose and content of this Financial Services Guide (FSG) is:

1. To assist you to determine whether to use any of the services described herein;
2. To include details of how we and our associations are remunerated for our services;
3. To contain details about how complaints against us will be handled.

As part of our delivery of services to you, we may prepare a Statement of Advice (or a Record of Advice) and possibly provide you with one or more Product Disclosure Statements prepared by one or more product issuers. Where we prepare a Statement of Advice/Record of Advice we will always provide you with a copy. Where a record of advice is prepared (e.g. as part of an ongoing service arrangement with you) we will keep a copy in our files and you are free to request (at no cost) a copy up to 7 years after the date of that record's creation.

Lack of Independence

Legislative Notice:

We can't call ourselves independent. Here's why.

The law makes it very difficult for most advisers to say they are independent, unbiased or impartial, even if they are not in any way linked to a financial product provider (like a bank).

If, for example, an adviser gets paid a commission to help a client arrange some insurance they are automatically prohibited from calling themselves independent. Most advisers who receive those commissions charge their clients very little (if anything) for the advice or the help they provide putting a policy into place. From time to time we receive these commissions. So although we always put your interests before ours when giving advice we cannot (by law) call ourselves independent, unbiased or impartial.
